Mahon, Brisson Concordia's athletes of the year

By RANDY PHILLIPS
of The Gazette

Hockey players Mark Mahon and Thérèse Brisson were named male and female athletes of the year at Concordia University's annual athletic awards banquet last night.

Football star Leroy Blugh and basketball player Cynthia Johnston captured top male and female honors at Bishop's University in Lennoxville.

Mahon, a third-year left winger from Vankleek Hill, Ont., and captain of the Stingers for the past two seasons, scored 14 goals and added 50 assists in 26 league games.

Mahon broke the Ontario Universities Athletic Association record for most assists in one season (45) last year.

Mahon and Brisson were also named the most valuable players (MVP) of their respective teams. Brisson is Concordia's all-time leading scorer in women's hockey and helped the Stingers to an unbeaten season in league play and the Quebec university women's hockey championship.

Blugh, a three-time all-Canadian linebacker from Napanee, Ont., and Johnston, a native of Rothesay, N.B., picked up male and female athlete-of-the-year awards for the second year in a row.

Concordia Today

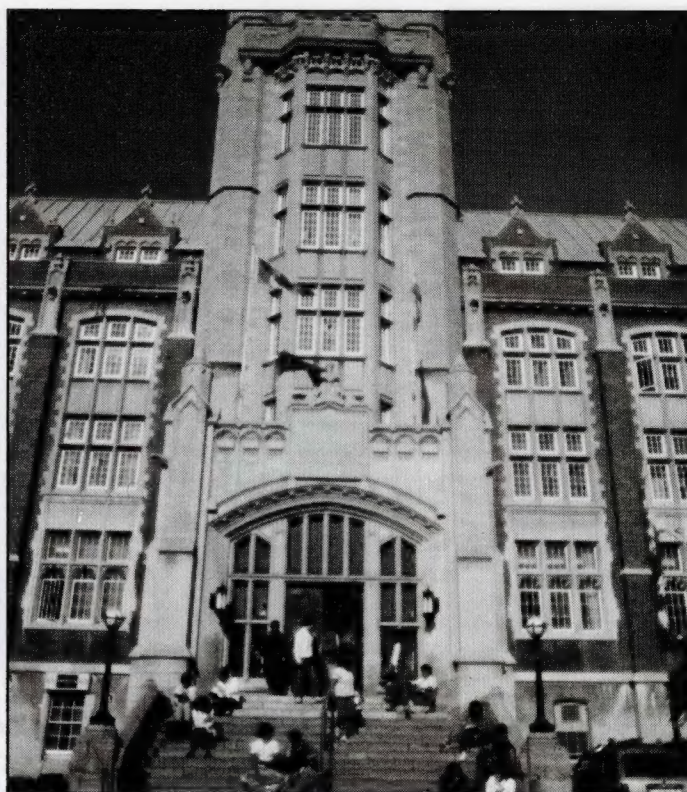

Concordia has a long history of offering higher education to men and women of all ages and backgrounds, many of whom might not have had the chance without Concordia's flexible programming structure which has enabled them to take their degrees either full-time or part-time, day or evening.

Tracing its roots back over 100 years, Concordia has weathered economic depressions, population booms and just about everything else while offering some of the most innovative and exciting education in North America. And all without becoming an ivory tower.

Concordia today maintains its tradition of concern for the individual. Wherever possible, students are given the opportunity to plan programmes to suit their own needs and circumstances. They can enter the university in September, and, in some cases, in January or May.

Classes run from early in the morning until late at night. In all, Concordia has over 25,000 full-time and part-time students enrolled in some 185 programs within its four faculties - Arts and Science, Commerce and Administration, Engineering and Computer Science, Fine Arts.

Classes are small - so students find professors very accessible and classes are split between the two campuses. Concordia has both an urban and suburban setting. Its modern Sir George William Campus is right at the heart of downtown Montreal while its more traditional Loyola campus is nestled in a 50-acre tree-lined setting in the residential west-end. Depending on their programmes, students study on one of the two campuses, although in many cases, they may study on both. A free shuttle-bus service conveniently connects the two campuses.

The lively presence of Graduate Studies with its 61 programmes adds much to the Concordia milieu.

Concordia has an excellent reputation in teaching & research. Its core of professors are recognized as having the highest number of PhDs teaching at the undergraduate level of all Canadian universities. In addition, as active practitioners in their fields of expertise, practical experience is often combined with theory in the classroom.

Defending Concordia's Honor

After running away with the Quebec University Soccer League title in 1988, the Stingers could be hard pressed to repeat as champions in 1989. At least that's what Lionel Joseph is saying.

"It should be very interesting," indicated the second year Stinger coach, who took his team to the National finals. "Everyone will be out to get us. We beat every team last year, so now they'll be trying that much harder when they play us."

The maroon and gold will undoubtedly be the team to beat this year. However, the task will be much harder with the loss of several key players. Departed and missed will be All-Canadians Connie Cant and Sophie Drolet. Drolet led the nation in scoring with 19 goals and was named Concordia's Female Rookie of the Year in 1988. The bulk of the scoring will be picked up by National Team member Annie Caron who averaged better than a goal per game last season. Caron is expected to provide the necessary leadership with the departure of Cant, who was voted team M.V.P. in 1988. Caron will be joined by Brigitte Bisson, who had a solid rookie year at forward.

Joseph realizes that these players will be hard to replace and has therefore been busy recruiting over the summer. Deanne Miller, the leading CEGEP scorer with 8 goals, will certainly add some scoring punch. She will be joined by fellow John Abbott College graduate Leslie Potts and Muriel Dahan from Dollard of the Quebec Provincial League. Regardless of who joins the Stingers starting lineup for 1989, the nucleus of returning players is very strong.

The defense and goaltending will be an integral part of the Stingers drive for national prominence. Alexandra "Heidi" Jones, who recorded four consecutive shutouts in league play, is solid in net. Key veterans Leanne Murray and Sue Dufresne have combined with Q.S.S.F. All-Star Debbie Doyle to give the Stingers a formidable defense.

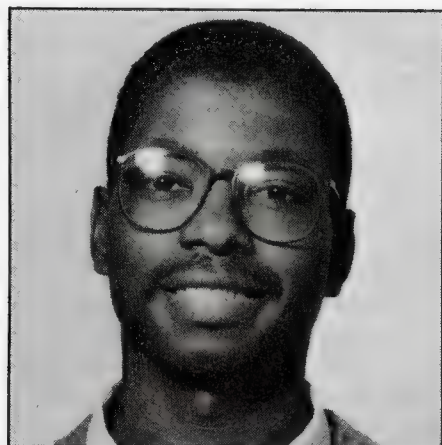

Returning midfielders include 1987 All-Canadian Leslie Clement, Sheryl Moore, Lea-Anne Thomas and Val Gaston.

The burning question remains for 1989. Can the Stingers take a run at the National title? Coach Joseph downplays the Stingers' chances after losing an overtime shootout to eventual champion Queen's in last year's National semi-final.

"My goal is to field a competitive team. If we win, fine. If we lose, then as long as we were competitive, I'll be satisfied. It's hard to say if we'll be at the Nationals. It will depend a bit on luck and how badly we want to win."

Lionel Joseph
Head Coach

Head soccer coach Lionel Joseph enters his second season as head coach of the Stingers. A graduate of the Université de Montréal, Joseph led his team through an undefeated regular season and a spot in the National finals in 1988. Joseph coached the St. Laurent men's CEGEP team in 1987 before taking the Concordia job.

The native of Brooklyn, New York played 10 years for Vasco de Gama in the Quebec Provincial league. His coaching career began in 1977 as player/coach of Vasco de Gama. In 1983, he was voted Coach of the Year in the Quebec Senior League as he led the B-tops to the Provincial Championship. Joseph moved on to the senior women's circuit in 1985, where he led Dorval United to a provincial title.

The sophomore coach, who led the Stingers to an overall record of 12-2-1, is a strong disciplinarian and stresses team play.

His brother Parnell is a former star player with the Stinger basketball team.

Lionel and his wife Jeanne have two children, Sebastien and Catherine.

Soccer Men Set to Hit New Heights

1988 will not go down as a vintage year in Concordia soccer history. The glory of the Onorato years passed the Stingers by, however when a team loses 9 of 11 starters it's tough to be number one. The team remained competitive throughout the year while finishing third in league play and only one goal away from the provincial final. At least 11 veterans including nine starters will be returning for 1989. A key player to the Stinger fortunes will be goaltender Alex Polidoro. Polidoro was the Stingers' inspirational leader last season and believes the team has what it takes this time around.

"Our team has great potential," says the senior member of the soccer team. "The individual talent is certainly there. Against McGill we came within a few minutes of a win (the Redmen tied it up on a penalty shot with no time left). The team spirit off the field is great. It has even been better than the previous three years. On the field, however, we were missing a leader in the midfield."

Despite the team's inexperience at mid-field, the forward spot will be a source of strength for the team. Conference All-Star Henrik Lystager will return after being named Rookie of the Year and M.V.P. for the Stingers. Sophomore Maged Loka is also a solid forward and "will be a lot more physical", says Coach Vlad Pavlicik. Michael Baker, a four-year veteran guard with the national finalist Stinger basketball squad, is also expected to start at forward. Pavlicik thinks Baker will be a dominant player with a little more finesse.

Returning on defense will be Nick Smeros who is expected to be a team leader with the graduation of Lars Eller and former All-Canadian Larry Corso. Achilles Prassas and Steve de Riz will both be better after their initial season in the Q.S.S.F.

The Stingers are expecting to improve their midfield situation by recruiting a few players from the Quebec Soccer League. Four rookies were thrown to the wolves last season.

Coaches Pavlicik and Campo are expecting big things from Shaun Baskett and Roman Kacin in 1989. James Christoff and Danny Madeschuk will battle the incoming recruits for the other two starting positions.

It could be feast or famine at goaltender this year. Alex Polidoro may return for his final year of eligibility. He shared goaltending duties with All-Canadian Genaro Angelillo, who has left Concordia and entered Law School at the Université de Montréal. If he returns, Polidoro could be the key to the Stinger fortunes.

to a National Championship that year. The next four years he captained the Stingers, winning two league titles. His coaching career began in 1979 as he was named an assistant playing coach under Harry Hus.

Campo played in the senior men's league with the Elio Blues and later coached them for two seasons. He received his Exercise Science degree in 1980 before obtaining a Diploma in Sports Administration in 1981. Currently employed by the Canadian Olympic Association, Campo is the Technical Program Coordinator and he accompanied the Canadian Pan Am Games team to Indianapolis in 1987.

Vladimir Pavlicik

Vladimir Pavlicik was named co-coach of the Stingers in the fall of 1988. Pavlicik began his coaching career in 1981 as an assistant with Harry Hus. The Stingers finished the regular season undefeated in 1981. He also coached the Elio Blues with Francisco Campo during 1981 as the team went through the Quebec senior league without a loss.

Pavlicik began his playing career in the early seventies and was selected to the 1971 National Junior Team. He had extensive international experience as a player with the Guelph Oaks Soccer Club. Presently employed in the Concordia Athletic Department, Pavlicik is the Coordinator of Recreational Athletics. A graduate of the University of Guelph (1978), he completed a graduate Diploma in Sports Administration from Concordia in 1980.

Louise Zerbe
Head Coach

Louisa begins her third complete season as head coach of the basketball Stingers. Prior to joining the Concordia coaching staff Louisa led the University of Lethbridge Pronghorns women's team from 1979-1986. The team was ranked in the CIAU Top 10 for the duration of her tenure as head coach and in her final year the Pronghorns captured the bronze medal at the CIAU Nationals. As well, the Edmonton native was named CIAU Women's Basketball Coach of the Year in 1984-85 and 1982-83. Along with her duties as head coach, Louisa served as Assistant Athletic Director for Lethbridge.

Changing of the Guard

"Don't write the Stingers off," says new head basketball coach and former Concordia guard John Dore. Despite losing their starting backcourt of Allan Cox and Dexter John, Concordia has a strong nucleus of players returning for the 1989-90 campaign. Leading the way for Concordia will be swing-guard Michael Cohee, the Stingers M.V.P. last year. Cohee averaged 15 points and 5 rebounds per game for the national finalist Stingers. "Cohee is our best all-round player", states Dore. He will be joined by a pair of imposing forwards who will pick up any scoring slack left by the exodus of John and Cox. Dino Perin and Nick Arvanitis, both conference All-Stars in 1988, "will take a lot of pressure off the guards", Dore declared. Last season Perin was among the league leaders in field goal percentage and rebounds. At 6'8", 225 lbs, the Stingers will count on his size and strength more than ever. Senior Captain Arvanitis had an off year last season, but played well in the Nationals. He finished fifth in CIAU rebounding two years ago and Concordia will need his leadership in order to succeed.

"I think Dino and Nick will contribute more this year", said Dore. "Both players have worked hard with weights and have winning attitudes."

The supporting cast also looks good at forward. Ernie Rosa, who won a National title with Perin at Vanier College should see more action. Second-year players Glenn Marsh and Tim Lefebvre may also see more court time.

The backcourt will be Dore's only question mark. The three-time former All-Star guard has recruited Robert Ferguson from Vanier College. Ferguson is expected to be one of the top freshmen in the country this season. The Montreal native averaged 20 points per game last year while earning All-Canadian honours. Coach Dore is happy to have Ferguson, who led his team to the provincial crown.

"He wants to win and always strives for excellence," states Dore. "Robert will fit in quickly, because of his team-first attitude."

The team will likely rotate four-year veteran Michael Baker with second-year players Pat Sullivan and Raphael Tyrell at the other guard position. Baker played well at the Nationals last year and provides the team with good leadership.

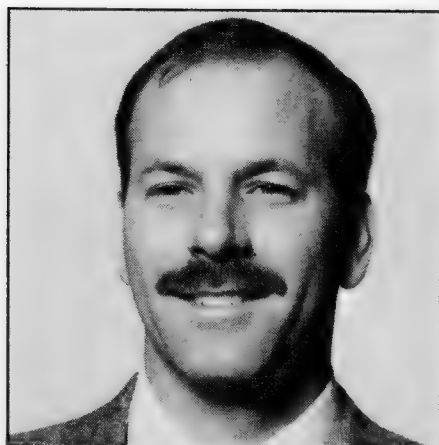

Coaches Harvey Liverman and John Dore will spend a lot of time defining each player's role early in the year. "Every player will have distinct duties whether its a starter or 12th man," declared Dore. "We'll only carry 12 players and each one needs to contribute if we expect to win."

The Stingers' initial exposure this year will occur the weekend of November 3. They host Bishop's, U.P.E.I. and U.B.C. in the 24th Annual Centennial Tournament.

Concordia Volleyball Program in High Gear

Concordia volleyball coach Melanie Sanford knows that being in charge of a team which has just completed its inaugural year of existence, means that your job doesn't end when the final points have been smashed to the floor.

Sanford, who came to Concordia from the University of Victoria last year, says that the Stingers had a "very successful" year, but that it was also "only the beginning".

These days, the coach is hard at work setting up a summer program which she says will benefit both the team and the community. The program will consist of a series of clinics for both players and coaches and takes place in August and September.

At the same time, Sanford is trying to develop a "feeder system" for the Stingers, which would involve setting up a network of CEGEP and club teams who would develop players that could eventually come to Concordia.

"Our first step was to set up a club which could compete at the juvenile (16-under) level," she indicates. "What we would do is support the team and furnish them with coaches who are also affiliated with us. We'd try to implement a system on that team, the same one that we use over here at Concordia."

Sanford indicates that she has also secured a commitment from Champlain College in St. Lambert, to carry out the second stage of the network — at the CEGEP level.

"By doing this, we'd be able to keep putting the same players up through the same system, until they reach the final stage which is the university team," Sanford says. "It gives you a big advantage over other teams if your players are familiar with a program before they have even played a single game for you."

If all goes well, Sanford can see the possibility of the network being expanded to the younger midget level and to the older junior level—which would serve as a go-between from CEGEP to university.

"There are no limits to this type of program and what it can do," she points out. "We would have regular meetings with all the lower-level coaches and tell them what we expect. We would all be in close contact with each other."

According to Sanford, the system would serve two purposes. First, it would fill the Athletics Department mandate of providing a program for both the university and the general community. Second, it fills the mandate of the Quebec Volleyball Federation, which the team will ultimately need for support.

The Stingers began training camp in August in preparation for the University of Vermont tournament September 9-10.

Coach Melanie Sanford enters her second season as head volleyball coach. She led her team to a 17-16 overall record last year. The Stingers finished third in the province defeating McGill 2-0 in the Provincial Championships.

Sanford had a distinguished playing career as a member of Canada's National Team from 1979 to 1983. She received a B.A. from the University of Saskatchewan in 1981 after four seasons with the Huskiette volleyball program. A three-time captain of the Huskiettes, Sanford was a two-time All-Canadian and three-time CWUAA All-Star. The Huskiettes won three consecutive National Championships with Sanford as captain.

The Saskatoon native began her coaching career in 1984 as Player/Coach for Albisola Superiore in Italy. She was Assistant Coach of the University of Saskatchewan women's team in 1985 before joining the University of Victoria men's program in 1986. Sanford coached the Mount Douglas Boys High School team in 1987 to a provincial crown.

Beware the Killer Bees

The Concordia Stingers were 3-4 in 1988, but the record hardly reflects the season. They beat both eventual conference finalists, Bishop's and Queen's in resounding victories. The Stingers also had two first team All-Canadians in Richard McCrory (tackle) and Paul Vajda (guard) and one second team All-Canadian in Mirco Buth (slotback). Ron Aboud was the All-Conference quarterback. They had two of the best return men in Pat Yoshy and J.F. Heroux, who also led the nation in rushing average (7.7). Martin Ferdais (linebacker) was second in the conference with 55 tackles.

The '89 Stingers will be missing the services of Buth. C.F.L. third round draft pick McCrory and Ferdais are possible returnees, depending on how they do with CFL teams they've been invited to try out for. All of the above players plus 12 other starters will return in September.

New Head Coach Pat Sheahan has assembled a fine coaching staff for 1989. Most notable is Larry Ring, architect of the Vanier Cup winning defence in 1987. Former C.F.L. great Nick Aragki will coach the receivers in his first exposure at the collegiate level.

Concordia is quite solid on offence. Three starting offensive linemen from 1988; Bryan Vajda (6'1"-266), Jacques Moreau (6'3"-260) and Paul Vajda (6'2"-260) will anchor one of the biggest lines in the nation. The backfield had nine players vying for positions at camp. Veteran receiver Nigel Smith (5'11"-209) was a pleasant surprise at his new position of fullback. J.F. Heroux, 150 lbs. soaking wet will line up at tailback after finishing among the top ten rushers in the C.I.A.U.

The receivers are a question mark with John Colatosti and Mike Noble the only returnees. Sheahan says the Stingers will employ a variation of the Delaware University offense, with an emphasis on quick-hitting running plays and controlled high percentage passing. The first year coach would like to get the running backs more involved in the passing game.

Defensively, the Stingers will have some holes to fill. The so called French Connection's hard-hitting linebacker Gilles David won't be back to wreak havoc for a fifth year. Gaston Thibodeau (6'1"-218), Concordia's rookie of the year in '88, is recovering from shoulder surgery but should be back in boneracking form by September. Devon Anderson (6'-212) will return to play the outside linebacker spot. On the defensive line, fifth year man Nick Dahan (6'2"-245) had "an excellent camp" says defensive co-ordinator Larry Ring. Veteran Stephane Monette (6'2"-255) will also see plenty of action. The Stingers will look for rookie lineman Eric Burrows (6'1"-295) and Paul Maines (6'3"-270) to come to the forefront in September.

The defensive backfield has three key returnees. All-Conference corner Stephane Chapados (5'11"-190) is "better than I thought" says Ring, and will be a valuable commodity in the last line of defense. Chapados led the nation with 143 yards of interception return yardage. Halfback Alvaro Martinez (5'10"-205) and Johnny (Gizmo) Dilegge round out the veteran backfield.

Ring says the only problem that might occur is a lack of depth. This lets some players get lazy, he says, "... because they know they'll start due to sheer numbers".

Dilegge and Heroux, who both run the forty yard dash in the 4.5-4.6 second range, will be blazing over the open field this year once again.

Sheahan believes the Stingers will be very competitive in 1989.

Football Coaching Staff

Pat Sheahan
Head Coach

The Pat Sheahan coaching era began at Concordia on December 16, 1988. Sheahan enters his sixth season of C.I.A.U. football, his first as a head coach. The 32 year old native of Brockville, Ontario spent five years as Associate Head Coach of the McGill Redmen. As Offensive Coordinator, he helped lead the Redmen to the 1987 Vanier Cup.

The new mentor's coaching career began in 1978 at Loyola High School. He coached Leo's Boys Bantam Football Club in 1979 before taking a two year coaching hiatus. Sheahan hooked up with the Montreal Junior Concordes in 1982 and 1983 helping his team to a Little Grey Cup birth in 1983.

Sheahan played five years for the Stingers beginning in 1975. He was named team captain in both 1978 and 1979. A versatile performer as a player, Sheahan played every position on the line, including tight end. A graduate of Brockville High School, he came to the Stingers as a quarterback. His only touchdown came in 1979 against the Bishop's Gaiters.

Sheahan was signed by the Edmonton Eskimos in both 1980 and 1981. He completed a Diploma in Sports Administration from Concordia in 1981 after graduating with a Bachelor of Science (Cum Laude) in 1978. The resident of Kirkland was a full-time employee at McGill in charge of the highly successful Summer Sports Camp.

One of the top recruiters in the country, Sheahan will have one of the largest training camps in the history of the Stingers (97). He has also assembled one of the best young staffs in the C.I.A.U. Pat and wife Lee have three children.

Nick Arakgi
Receiver Coach

One of the C.F.L.'s all-time great inside receivers, Nick Arakgi has joined the Concordia coaching staff for the 1989 football season. The 6'6" former tight end retired in 1987 after nine seasons with Montreal and Winnipeg.

Arakgi played for the Stingers in 1976 where he split time with Pat Sheahan at tight end. He went on to star at Bishop's University before making the roster of the Montreal Alouettes in 1979. His best year was 1984 as he was given the Schenley Award for Top Canadian.

Sheahan believes that Arakgi, currently employed at Mediacom, will make a big difference with Concordia's young receiving corps. Nick and his wife Suzanne have three children, Nicolas, 9, Michelle, 7, and Jayson, 4.

Peter Regimbald
Special Teams, Linebackers

The senior member of the Concordia coaching staff, Pete Regimbald begins his ninth season with the Stingers. Regimbald spent ten years away from coaching before joining the team last year. Concordia had its best defense in several years under Regimbald's tutelage.

A former wide receiver with the Montreal Alouettes (1965), Regimbald played college football at St. Francis Xavier. His university coaching career began in 1970 at Loyola where he helped lead the Stingers to three league titles in the seventies. Regimbald also helped coach the Loyola hockey team in 1974 and 1975.

The native of Montreal has been employed as the Student Liaison Director for Concordia since 1975. He resides in Pointe Claire with his wife Dianne and son Scott, 14.

Lou Oliveira
Offensive Line

Lou Oliveira, who coached at Vieux Montréal CEGEP last year, begins his first season in the C.I.A.U. coaching ranks. Oliveira anchored the McGill offensive line in 1987 when they won the National Championship. He will focus on the offensive line and handle the strength and conditioning of the team.

The 27 year old Rosemount native began his football career in Chomedey. He played for the Junior Concordes in 1982 under offensive coordinator Pat Sheahan. After a five-year career with McGill, Oliveira spent the summer of 1988 as a player-coach in France.

Oliveira inherits one of the most imposing lines in the country with All-Canadians Richard McCrory and Paul Vajda both returning.

The Physical Education graduate is a teacher at Lindsay Place High School and resides in Little Burgundy.

Larry Ring
Defensive Coordinator

Larry Ring begins his first season with the Stingers after five years at McGill. He is a graduate of Bishop's University where he was an All-Star defensive back in 1980. Ring was drafted by the Ottawa Roughriders in 1980 and played one season with the Montreal Concordes, 1981.

A native of Ottawa, Ontario, Ring's coaching career began in 1983 with the Redmen. He is widely known as the architect of the 1987 National Championship defense. Ring operates his own communications company, Mark Strat. He resides with his wife, Sue Hylland, in Kirkland.

Peter Chrysomalis
Defensive Backfield Coach

Entering his initial season at the collegiate coaching level, Chrysomalis was the head coach of the Chateauguay Raiders last season. In his three seasons at Chateauguay, his team's won two provincial titles.

The 30 year old native of Montreal played three seasons for the Concordia Stingers (1980-82). He was a starting defensive halfback with the 1982 team, Concordia's most successful squad ever.

The resident of Lachine is one of the top young football minds in Quebec. He will be reunited with several former Chateauguay Raiders, including Johnny Dilegge and Eric Burrows.

Mike Enright
Offensive Backfield Coach

Mike Enright faces a new challenge for 1989. After a three year term as offensive line coach, he will now be responsible for the offensive backs. Enright coached Loyola High School for six years before hooking up with the Stingers. Last season the Stingers had one of the best offensive lines in the country under Enright's expertise. He coached three consecutive conference "Lineman of the Year" winners in Rocco Romano, Mike Bertone, and Paul Vajda.

The Montreal native played for Loyola College from 1971-72. He is a big backer of high school football in the Montreal area helping to organize the Annual Football Banquet. A Loyola graduate, he also has a Master's degree in Education.

Enright is the Vice-Principal at Loyola High School and resides in Dollard des Ormeaux with his wife Johanne and their daughter Lauren.

Women's Hockey Preview

In Tact and Impressive

The 1989-90 season is shaping up to be one of the great years in the history of Concordia Women's Hockey. Despite the loss of All-World forward Therese Brisson and First Team All-Star Lisa Morgan, the Stingers remain the class of Quebec. Concordia stormed through league play with a 15-0 record. Then they disposed of John Abbott College and Bishop's in straight games to win the league title. Overall, the team finished with a 25-6 record. Besides Morgan, Brisson and rookie Woods-Turner were named all-stars. Going undefeated through the regular season and playoffs - could there be a small blemish to an otherwise perfect season? As a matter of fact, yes?

Lack of competition!

The team is hoping to join the East Coast Athletics Conference (ECAC) in the fall of 1990. With this in mind, the Stingers have scheduled 15 games against tough N.C.A.A. competition. There would be little adjustment time required once play began in the new conference. After all, the Stingers play south of the border on a regular basis.

Because of Concordia's proximity to the border, the new schedule wouldn't involve excessive travel time, according to Assistant Coach Julie Healy. "The format would consist of maybe four three-day trips to the U.S. as well as weekday trips to Vermont and St. Lawrence. Then we would have five or so teams play weekend double-headers against us."

Returning to the Stingers are the second and third leading scorers in league play. Impressive rookie Laura Leslie (33 games: 27 goals-58 assists-85 points) broke two of Therese Brisson's records - most assists in one season (58) and one game (8). She combines with All-Star Debbie Woods-Turner to give Concordia the top one-two punch in the league. The Stingers also had an All-Star-like performance from forward-turned-goaltender Sue Prosser (1.47 G.A.A. and 4 shutouts). Prosser and newcomer Marie Claude Roy (Champlain College) give the Stingers one of the top tandems in Canada.

Concordia will also be looking to Maria Pia Chavez (15 GP: 6-12-18) and Laura Spiegel (11 GP: 7-9-16) for leadership up front. They will be joined by solid forwards Shana Hogan, Michele Lapointe and Val Gaston. Impressive newcomers include Suzanne Lepage (Mount Royal) and Stephanie Ouellette (Brebeuf).

On defence - the maroon and gold will be led by Johanne Bedard and Anna Landriault. They will be joined by J.A.C. grads Patty Arnold, who was heavily recruited by several N.C.A.A. teams and Lynn-Ann Mageau.

The Stingers will once again host the Theresa Humes Invitational Tournament in early February.

They expect to challenge for the tournament title this season with their most impressive roster in ten years. This year, watch as the old and new blend into one of the top teams in North America.

Les Lawton
Head Coach

Les Lawton begins his seventh season as head coach of the Stingers. Lawton guided the women's team to an undefeated regular season and its second Provincial Championship is three years. The team did not lose a single game to Quebec competition last season.

The Montreal native has a career record of 116-66-19 after leading his charges to a 27-6 campaign last year. Lawton won his 100th career game on January 1, 1989 against Rochester Institute of Technology. His coaching career began with the N.D.G. Maroons hockey program before he moved on to guide Loyola High School.

Les and his wife Paddy reside in N.D.G. with their daughter Mallory.

The Secret of Success

"It was a satisfying experience." Those are some of the words used by hockey coach Paul Arsenault, when asked to talk about his team's performance last year.

"I could start by saying we had 14 rookies in our lineup (as an excuse) and so on," says Arsenault. "However, the bottom line is that we finished seventh overall out of 17 teams. We also played consistently good hockey and continued to improve throughout the year."

The Stingers finished the season with a 14-10-2 record, good enough for 30 points and third place behind Trois-Rivières and McGill in the O.U.A.A. East. Concordia lost to the Redmen in two straight, in the first round of the playoffs.

Arsenault speaks for the team when he says "I'm disappointed that we lost to McGill in the playoffs," then he adds, "That was the best team they've had in the 25 years I've been here."

Concordia featured one of its strongest line-ups during the 1988-89 season. Since appearing at the CIAU National Tournament in 1984, the Stingers have not gotten past the first round of the playoffs. They have qualified for post-season play each of the last two years, losing to McGill both times.

Nonetheless, Arsenault still found a silver lining to the season. "We sure have a good foundation for this year," declares Arsenault, as a smile creeps onto his face. "It looks very good."

The Stingers have lost four players from last year's team, three of whom were captains. The toughest to replace will be All-Canadian Mark Mahon. The three-year veteran was the M.V.P. in the O.U.A.A. last season and he has signed a professional contract in West Germany. His leadership skills and outstanding play will be missed. "It's very difficult to lose a player and person of Mark's calibre," understated Arsenault. "However, it bodes well for our hockey program when players can further their career in Europe after graduation."

Concordia will also lose alternate captains Paul Brophy and Tod Button to graduation. Brophy finished with 105 career points and is expected to enter law school this year. Button, a versatile performer for the maroon and gold has been named Special Assistant to Washington Capitals G.M. David Poile.

With these captains leaving, Arsenault expects All-Star and Guy Lafleur Trophy winner Richard Laplante to step to the forefront. Second-year players E.J. Janiszewski and John Gravelle will also shoulder more responsibility.

Arsenault believes that leadership may come from unexpected sources this year. "Rob Boyle is returning after a two-year absence," states Arsenault. "He's like a bigger, more physical Mark Mahon. I expect him to be a major force on the team with respect to leadership."

The addition of the versatile Boyle (6'1" - 215) helps defray the loss of Mahon. Recruiting has also gone extremely well. On defense, the team has added CEGEP All-Star Jeff Gill and former Saskatchewan junior star Lee Odelein to one of the best young groups in the league. Jophn Abbott College captain Bob Cameron joins Louis Leger and Janiszewski, both former Islanders. They will anchor the defense in front of O.U.A.A. All-Star Robert Desjardins. Desjardins, who attended the training camp of the N.Y. Rangers, will have rookies Scott Donaldson and Todd Talbot pushing him this year.

The Stingers will be solid up front with Laplante and Gravelle returning. Mark Davidson (26 GP: 16-12-28) and three-year veteran Todd Adams give the team some more offensive thrust at forward. They have also added forward Stephane Therrien from the Q.M.J.H.L. and several Ontario Tier II players. The team has had its biggest training camp in six years. The competition for starting positions will certainly benefit the team in the long run.

It is very important for the team to peak late in the season if they hope to advance past the first round of the playoffs. Arsenault has been working hard to prepare the team for a series of exhibition games against Hockey East teams. "We had such a strong year in 1988 that a good exhibition season is needed for us to prepare for later in the year," stated Arsenault.

As for the Stingers, everything points to a strong season and a better playoff performance this year. With such a strong nucleus and college hockey's third winningest coach behind the bench, the future looks bright for Concordia hockey. Satisfaction should be guaranteed in 1990 if Laplante, Desjardins, et al, have anything to say about the issue.

Yves Beaucage, a 1984 graduate of McGill University, was named an Assistant Hockey Coach in August, 1988. Beaucage came to Concordia from the McGill hockey program where he was a full-time Assistant for three years.

Beaucage was a star forward for the Redmen in the early eighties. He holds several team records and was the team captain during the 1983-84 season. Following his McGill career he played professional hockey in France for one year. One of the top young minds in Canadian College Hockey, Beaucage is also the Director of Player Recruitment for the Stingers.

Mission 1990: National Championship

If the Concordia wrestling team were in the silk-screening business, this is the logo you would see tattooed across the front. The Stingers' five year stranglehold on the National Title came to an abrupt end last year. Concordia finished second to York, but look for the Stingers to dominate the 1989-90 campaign. With eight wrestlers returning and the number of weight categories reduced to ten, the maroon and gold will be very strong.

Head Coach Victor Zilberman, who doubled as the 1988 Olympic Coach, is entering his 13th seas with the Stingers. The wrestling program has grown to be one of the best in North America. While at Concordia, Zilberman has coached a distinguished list of wrestlers including Clark Davis, Serge Marcil, Pat Sullivan, Doug Yeats, Wyatt Wishart and Lawrence Holmes. This year's squad will be led by CIAU National Champions Rob Dawson and David Mendelsohn. Dawson, who will graduate with his Political Science degree this year, is a current National Team member. He won a Pan Am Games Silver Medal in 1987 and is currently ranked second in the 57 kg category for Canada. Mendelsohn, who wrestles in the 61 kg class, is also a National Team member and the current Greco-Roman Champion. He has trained in Hungary and Czechoslovakia most of the summer and should be a major force this season.

The remainder of the Stinger Wrestling team have been CIAU Medalists over the last two years. Former National Junior Champion Mike Meekins returns for his third season at Concordia. Meekins won a silver at the CIAU Nationals and is ranked third nationally in the 65kg category. The Stingers are blessed with several wrestlers who compete at different weights. Beaconsfield native Anthony Merlo is a versatile performer for the Stingers. He finished third at the Nationals at 150 lbs but is ranked second in Canada at 134 lbs. Zilberman uses Merlo and senior Chris Villeneuve where they can benefit the team most. Villeneuve moved up four weight classes last year to help the team. He finished third at 61 kg in the senior Nationals this summer.

Concordia also has Dwayne Zacharie, who won a silver at the CIAU Finals. Zacharie is world-ranked in both Greco-Roman and Freestyle. Three-year veteran Tom Rebelo also returns after placing third in the 80kg class.

"We don't have a lot of bodies, but we do have quality wrestlers.", says Zilberman's assistant, Rob Moore. "With so many returning medalists, we have a good chance this year."

The Stingers are somewhat of a "Lone Ranger" in Quebec collegiate wrestling. Concordia is the only CEGEP or university that has a varsity team. Assistant Coach Rob Moore has thus found it tough to recruit. "It's very hard getting quality wrestlers in Quebec. There are so many schools in Ontario, that we have a hard time attracting the good kids."

Despite the recruiting problems, Concordia has maintained CIAU dominance because of the National Training Centre located in Montreal. The training centre has been able to attract several of the top coaches in Canada. The Concordia Wrestling team is made up of the Montreal Club Wrestlers who are education-oriented. The Stingers are blessed with many national calibre student-athletes. Let's hope their mission is accomplished in 1990.

Victor Zilberman
Head Coach

Coach Zilberman is now in his 12th season as Head Coach of the Concordia Wrestling Team. He has built the Stinger Wrestling program into one of the finest in North America, winning five National titles in the last six years. Zilberman divides his coaching duties between Concordia and the Montreal Wrestling Club.

A former National Champion in Russia (1972), Zilberman has been the head coach for Canada's National Team since 1983. He coached Canada's entry at the 1988 Olympic Games in Seoul, South Korea. Zilberman has produced some of the world's best wrestlers since taking over the Montreal Wrestling Club. Included among these are former Stingers Clark Davis, Serge Marcil and Pat Sullivan.

Some of Zilberman's other honours include being named CIAU Coach of the Year for 1984 and 1986. He coached the Commonwealth Games team to nine gold medals in 1986 and is the current President of the Canadian Wrestling Coaches Association.

Zilberman and his wife Chris live in Cote St. Luc with their two children, David, 6 and Vicki, 8.

Ski Sensation Gamache Looks Forward to '89

This past winter, Concordia skier Roseanne Gamache won seven out of ten races while finishing second three times. Needless to say she dominated the university circuit and clinched the individual women's title three weeks before the season ended.

Despite these overwhelming accomplishments, which garnered her both Rookie-of-the-Year and MVP honours, as well as a $1500 scholarship, the 22 year-old first-year commerce student claims that she was "just having fun" and "not as serious" about racing as in the past.

Confusing? Unless you know a bit about Gamache's racing history, her statements probably do seem a bit baffling to say the least.

Gamache began skiing at the age of three. Her father was an instructor at Mont St. Sauveur and wanted to see his family perfect their technical approach to the sport — through things like lessons and racing. The youngest of three children, Gamache began her racing career at age eight and made the Laurentian-zone team six years later.

At 15, Gamache qualified for the Quebec team as a slalom specialist and remained there for three years. Finally, when she turned 18, Gamache appeared to get the break she had been waiting for when she was invited to join the Canadian National Team for summer training.

"It was one of those deals where you'd go there to train and if they liked you, they would let you stay with them for the season," she indicated.

Unfortunately, Gamache's experience was far from being a memorable one.

"There was a lot of politics involved and I just got fed up," she says. "After that, I stopped skiing altogether."

Realizing that she would never earn a living as a skier, Gamache decided to return to school, in order to continue the education she had abandoned in favour of ski training two years earlier.

After completing her studies at College Brebeuf, she enrolled as a bio-chemistry major at McGill for one semester before changing her mind and coming to Concordia.

Upon her arrival, Gamache decided to get back into ski racing once again — only this time, at the less-competitive scholastic level.

"I knew that it would still take a big commitment on my part," she says, "but I was also looking forward to enjoying myself without the pressure I'd had on me in the past."

Nevertheless, Gamache says she had no idea that she would be able to do so well in her first year on the team.

"I really didn't know what to expect," she admits. "When I first started the season, I ran into a lot of ex-racers I had known from before and I thought, 'What have I gotten myself into?'"

"It turned out really great though."

The first year Marketing student also had a banner year in the classroom as she finished with a 3.86 G.P.A. in the Business Faculty.

Gamache will return to the team in September and take over the role of captain from men's champion Robert Seguin. "They like to turn over the captaincy every year so that the team can be exposed to different ideas and leadership," she explains.

As for the rest of the Stinger varsity ski teams, the women's squad will be basically in tact with the return of Pascale Savard, Leslie Clement and Renata Scheib. The men will be rebuilding after losing Robert Seguin and Mark Scheib to graduation.

When asked about the possibility of Concordia successfully defending both its Quebec and North American titles, which the team captured this past season, Gamache was guarded.

"We have a lot of people graduating, so I really don't know what the team is going to look like. We'll just have to work hard and hope for the best.

"We'll have fun too."

Development Sports

Women's Rugby

The Concordia squad competes in the Q.S.S.F.-sanctioned college/university league. The Stingers finished with a 4-4-2 record in 1988 losing to eventual champion John Abbott College in the semi-finals. This season was highlighted by a pair of ties against McGill, a team that dominated the Stingers in past years.

The 1989 Concordia entry will be stronger with most players returning from last year's squad. Several J.A.C. graduates will also join the team. As well, the majority of the team played in summer leagues.

Men's Rugby

The Stingers will once again be competing in the Quebec University Rugby League (Q.U.R.L.). The league consists of Bishop's, Université de Montréal, McGill and Concordia. The Stingers will field a strong team with many key veterans returning for the 1989 season. Training camp begins in early September in preparation for the first league game on September 16 against Bishop's.

Tae Kwon Do

The Concordia Tae Kwon Do team will be under the direction of Mike Gregory. No stranger to the Department of Fitness, Recreation & Athletics, Mike has been teaching Tae Kwon Do in the Recreational Athletics program for almost ten years. Having begun his own training at the age of fifteen, Gregory holds the rank of black belt and is a former Canadian National Team member.

Students under his tutelage in the well-established intramural Tae Kwon Do program have garnered several honours at provincial, national and international levels.

Mike has been chosen to lead Concordia's Tae Kwon Do team into its inaugural year with varsity status. The team will be composed of 6 men and 4 women chosen from the most qualified competitors at the start of the season with representation in both Olympic style and Freestyle events. There are four tournaments proposed for the 89-90 season, one each to be hosted by participating institutions (Concordia, Laval, McGill, UQAM). Concordia's tournament will be held in March of 1990 and the first-ever provincial championships are tentatively scheduled to be hosted here at year's end.

Golf

Concordia will compete in several fall tournaments in 1989. The Stingers finished third in the Q.S.S.F. last season in their first year of existence. The team is made up of six golfers with five or less handicaps. An extensive spring schedule is also planned for 1990.

Annie Caron Reaches for the Top

by Steve Shaw

Stinger soccer star Annie Caron says she loves to play soccer. Well, I certainly hope so, since she plays, trains, or coaches soccer 12 months a year. The 25 year old native of Ste Foy, near Quebec City, has come a long way since playing her first soccer game in Dollard des Ormeaux 18 years ago. This past summer Caron, a center forward, scored two goals with the Canadian National team on a three game exhibition tour of Denmark.

The Canadian squad won two games and tied one on the tour of Denmark in July. The same team finished sixth in the 1988 FIFA World Championships, the first time the Canadian team has ever been ranked in the world. They lost 1-0 in the quarter-finals to Sweden, one of the top-ranked teams in the world.

In 1986 Caron attended the National team tryouts in Winnipeg. Thinking she really didn't have much of a chance to make the team, Caron only brought enough clothes for four days. She ended up staying for three weeks.

Three summers later Caron is still with the team and she continues to prepare for the 1991 World Cup in China.

"My goal is to stay with the Canadian team until the World Cup in 1991," commented the quiet Caron. "We hope to do very well. We are catching up to the rest of the world very quickly."

Unfortunately the Canadian team's budget is so low that they will not be able to get together for a training camp until July of 1990.

Canadian National team coach Neil Turnbull hopes that his team will be able to travel to the Scandinavian countries next summer as well. The team would play against the top teams in the world - Denmark, Norway, and West Germany - in international competition, and have a training camp at Christmas to prepare for China.

"Annie is the best technical player on the women's side that I have ever seen," commented Coach Turnbull.

"She is capable of playing with either foot and is a great ball handler."

Although Coach Turnbull has experimented with Caron at different positions, she will mainly play up front in the future.

"She has really developed as a soccer player since she came to us in 1986. It has been a learning experience for the players and the staff to be able to play on the international level."

The women's soccer National training center in Quebec is at the Claude Robillard Centre in Montreal North. From November to April Caron trains indoors with many of Quebec's top male and female players. Under the direction of Sylvie Beliveau, Caron trains with members of the Supra and other elite players and National team hopefuls, including last year's Stinger M.V.P. Connie Cant.

Caron continued "I enjoy playing soccer because of the fitness component and the tactical part of the game. I want to continue to learn the technical side of the game."

In the summer of 1988 Caron broke her collarbone and was sidelined until October. John Abbott College, where Caron was three-time Lady Islander MVP and Athlete of the Year in 1986, was in need of a coach. Naturally it was Caron who decided to take over the program and the Lady Islanders won the 1988 Provincial Championships in Granby.

On coaching Caron said, "It allows me to learn more about the game, it forces me to think about new drills, and to see the game better. I need to anticipate better on the field and coaching also gives me a better understanding of the game."

This past summer, around the trip to Denmark, Caron found time to play for Dorval United in the Metropolitan League, Division I. The United are unbeaten in Quebec's top league and entering the playoffs they have a good chance at winning a Provincial Championship.

It will be a busy autumn for Caron. After three semesters in Geography at Concordia, she will now undertake a degree in Design and will attend classes in the Fine Arts Building on the corner of Dorchester and Crescent Streets.

Concordia practices Tuesdays and Wednesdays and the Lady Islanders will practice Mondays and Thursdays. Weekends will be reserved for games.

In 1988 Caron and Cant led the Stingers to a FQSE League Championship and on to the CIAU National Championships in British Columbia where they finished fourth. Although Cant will not play this season Caron hopes that the Stingers, who are coached by Lionel Joseph, can return to the CIAU Championships.

Caron is a resident of Ste Anne de Bellevue and John Abbott College was the first English school that she attended after doing her first 11 years of education in French.

She is also an outstanding skier and was named M.V.P. of the Concordia Varsity Ski Team for the 1987-88 season.

Through hard work and dedication, Annie has risen to soccer's highest level not only in Canada but in the world.

Let's hope she finds the time to lead the Stingers to the national finals once again.
